About IIE

The Institute of International Education is a world leader in the international exchange of people and ideas. An independent, nonprofit organization founded in 1919, IIE has a network of 18 offices worldwide. IIE designs and implements programs of study and training for students, educators, young professionals and trainees from all sectors with funding from government and private sources. These programs include the Fulbright and Humphrey Fellowships, the Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship Program and the International Visitor Leadership Program, administered for the U.S. Department of State. The Institute is a resource for educators and institutions worldwide, publishing the annual Open Doors Report on International Educational Exchange, as well as IIE Passport: Academic Year Abroad and IIE Passport: Short Term Study Abroad and operating www.IIEPassport.org, the search engine for study abroad programs in partnership with Education Dynamics. IIE also conducts policy research, provides advising and counseling on international education and opportunities abroad, and organizes university fairs in Asia. Visit: www.iie.org.

About the IIE Network

IIE Network is IIE's membership association, with 900 member institutions, including universities, 2- and 4-year colleges, national and international exchange agencies and educational not-for-profit organizations around the world. Each IIE Network designee is an important link in a network of over 4,500 individuals with a commitment to the internationalization of their institutions. As an IIE Network member, campus professionals receive targeted membership services to help recruit and advise international students and Americans studying abroad, network with other professionals in the field, and stay current on new developments in international education.
